Dear delegates,

We give you the warmest welcome to the Human Rights Council of SIMUN 2021. Our names are Adrián Díaz, Andrea Escamilla, Manuel González and Julieta Pérez. Throughout this year, we will be in charge of this Committee as your Academic Chair. Just as you, we are youngsters in search of making a change in the world by proposing ideas to solve diverse challenges and current problems that have arisen in recent years.

As the Human Rights Council, we have the aim of achieving a resolution for two topics that have a great significance for society. We exhort you to participate with the most interest and enthusiasm in order to be able to stand up before these extremely difficult problematics, thus fulfilling the Committees goal of reaching agreements which will bring world peace by the use of diplomacy.

Our first topic is about sexual tourism, and it will be debated from a human rights protection point of view. Likewise, an economic perspective from both developed and developing countries will also be mentioned, thus resulting in the need of a resolution that would benefit all nations across the globe, and that would include a response for those who are in the worst humanitarian conditions. Secondly, the right to decent housing is fundamental to all human beings and to us as a society; however, nowadays, millions of people suffer from not being able to have a place to call home.

The Human Rights Council will have the mission to deal with and sort out these quickly arising problems by developing strategies to cope with these situations. These are two difficult topics. Nevertheless, they must be debated due to the urgent crisis humanity is facing. Remember that if someone has already done something about it, you can also contribute, and if no one has ever been able to do something, then you could be the first. Dare yourself to be an active thinker and to make the world a better place through SIMUN 2021.

Yours truly,

The Academic Chair of the Human Rights Council's Committee.
