Dear delegates,

Please be welcome to SIMUN 2023, particularly to the committee of the World Health Organization. In this occasion, we will get the honor of being the academic chair. We want to express our gratitude for being part of this committee and also the satisfaction we get out of knowing you are interested in this great project.

We have been fortunate enough to participate in different United Nations Models as delegates, and now it is our turn to guide you through this process. Remember to enjoy the debate, participate, offer beneficial proposals, reach equitable resolutions, try to be dynamic and join us in this academic adventure that provides you with the opportunity of learning what you are capable of in this sense.

We hope that you will ensure a productive debate based on informed and well thought out opinions, so that the resolution regarding the topics that will be discussed is as complete and innovative as possible. We know you can promote change, set your goals and develop your full potential. Lets have a great and exciting experience around knowledge.

Please feel free to reach out if you have any doubts or face any inconveniences. We wish you the best of luck. See you very soon.

Sincerely,

The Academic Chair of the World Health Organization
